About Us

The Christian Ophthalmology Society has an Annual Meeting which features a combination of excellent scientific papers and spiritual presentations. An attempt is made to have all of the lectures presented by ophthalmic physicians. A special invitation is extended to medical students, house officers, and fellows to apply for waiver of registration fees, evening meals, and hotel accommodations as the Lord provides, to encourage young doctors and their families to come and be strengthened both professionally and spiritually.

The Christian Ophthalmology Society (COS) was founded as an interdenominational group of eye physicians and surgeons who confess that Jesus Christ is Savior and Lord.

Don't miss this year's exciting and spiritual experience!
